

Excavation

INSURE A BUSINESS AND PROTECT THEIR FINANCIAL INTERESTS WITH THE BEST SOLUTION

Excavation contractors work primarily in excavation, grading, and preparing sites for new building and construction. Some jobs that fall under the umbrella of excavation include trenching, foundation digging, concrete breaking, foundation drilling, dirt moving, and land clearing. Protect your client's business with Berkley Aspire's comprehensive packages that include General Liability, Property, and Excess coverage. Contact your direct underwriter today to discuss the best solution.

ASPIRE APPETITE

Berkley Aspire defines excavation as digging of a hole in excess of three feet. Excavation operations are generally associated with foundation work, trenching, and water flow over or around property. Depending on the type of work being performed and the terms of the contract, excavation contractors may be responsible for laying utility lines in place, and connecting lines to their appropriate sources, thus completing the installation, or they may simply be responsible for digging the trenches in which utility lines are to be placed. The type of equipment normally used in excavation operations are: Power shovels, backhoes, trench diggers, drag-lines, and bulldozers.
